“Where the elms in stat

Under these sturdy arched elms and along these shaded walks, dreams are made and live undimmed. Through these pages may you remember all that was yours at Elmhurst — the multitude of emotion experienced at the various athletic contests, the frenzied activity ely glory . . . ”

before the curtain, the mad cram for exams, the lofty desire for academic excellence, the mixed emotions on commencement day . . .

"...there our Cherished Alma Mater

And may you remember the campus — the dorms, old and new, but all made young by the spirited influence of their inhabitants; the gym, ever ringing with exuberance of athletes; the library; the C.U.B.; the chapel. These buildings, catalysts to learning and experience, have housed our indecision and frustration. Still, in the future, they will be the visible landmarks of our most pleasant years.

“...School We Love, Elmhurst...”

But may you also remember that Elmhurst is more than just a group of buildings. It embraces something beside books, profs, students and work. Elmhurst is a shared experience, something which is not confined by the physical boundaries of the campus. It is a tradition — many traditions — a complex of standards, attitudes, purposes and relationships which will live on within the minds of all those who ever learned, competed, laughed and labored here.

The Alma Mater

Where the elms in stately glory,
Spreading branches raise,
There our cherished Alma Mater
Hears our song of praise.

(refrain)

School, we love, Elmhurst, live for aye,

God shed his grace on thee;
Loyal by thy sons and daughters
To thy memory.

Student days will soon be over
For our happy throng,
Still we hold our memories precious
Ever dear and strong. (refrain)

When life's closing days draw nearer,
Sad the heart may be,
Still the dreams of youth and glory
Linger long o'er thee. (refrain)

The

The year 1965-1966 saw many different activities at Elmhurst School begin in the fall with the traditional freshman week, followed by homecoming and the golo inougral weekend. In winter were the sophomore semi-formol, the Christmas festivities, the winter

Spirited Freshmen

Orientation week at Elmhurst was a very busy one for all those involved. It started on Sunday afternoon as 283 new freshmen — all eager for the new experience of college life — invaded the campus. Waiting for them were the student leaders — headed by Rus Landolt and Don Stahlhut — who had worked long hours in preparation for their coming. After the opening convocation and address by Dr. Kleckner, the freshmen were divided into small groups, each headed by a student leader. During the next few days the students went to many meetings and took many tests. In the evenings they attended the following: vespers, a haatenanny, game nights, the film David and Lisa, and fireside discussions in the faculty homes about the book The Centaur. They also participated in initiation activities which included the annual tug-of-war, and the late night beanie raids by the domineering sophomores.

The orientation week came to a close with an address by Dr. Schade. Then, freshmen soon found themselves signing up for classes and becoming a true part of the campus life.

Homecoming Queen Reigns Over Her Court

Elmhurst's 1965 Homecoming was truly a time to "Try to Remember". The weekend formally began with the presentation of the queen, senior, Karen Vollertsen, and her court, which preceded the theater production, "The Fantasticks." Other highlights of the weekend were the pep rally behind the Chapel; the football game with Illinois College, a spectacular 39 to 0 victory for the Jays; the dance, in the C.U.B. with Ralph Marterie and his orchestra; and the Sunday worship service, featuring a talk by alumnus Dr. Walter Brueggeman, of Eden Theological Seminary.

"The Fantastiks", a parable about love written by Tom Jones and Harvey L. Schmidt, was the 1965 Homecoming Theater Production. Junior, Carol Kramsky directed the musical, in which Karen Baer and Bill Johnson, both sophomores, had starring roles. The "Try to Remember" Homecoming theme was taken from the title of one of the 14 featured musical numbers in the show.

New Era, New

The following people served as speakers at the inauguration ceremony: for the community, Mayor Charles Weigel; for the church, Dr. Ben M. Herbster; for the alumni, Charles Spenser; for the students, Paul Andersan; and for the faculty, Dr. Robert Clark.

In his address Dr. Kleckner expressed a desire for Elmhurst to be a "learning institution", one which has real human dimensions and one which adheres to a set of moral values.

The Inaugural Ball, held at the Elmhurst Country Club, featured Ted Sieber and his orchestra.

Dr. Hallis Price, moderator of the United Church of Christ General Synod, delivered the sermon in the Sunday worship "The church as a social institution."

The inauguration weekend came to an end with a concert on Sunday evening by the Chicago Symphony orchestra with Irwin Hoffman directing.

The Rev. Stan Hallett gives an "Overview of the Chicago Situation."

Religious Life Emphasizes Chicago

Poverty and welfare is the main topic discussed by Mr. Chester Robinson.

"Focus: Chicago" was the title of the Religious Emphasis Period sponsored by the Religious Life Committee. The purpose of the period was to open new perspectives of awareness, insight, and involvement in the city of Chicago and her complex problems. The following speeches were featured: "An overview of the Chicago Situation," by the Rev. Stan Hallett, the Executive Director of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago; "Segregation and the School Crisis in Chicago," by Mr. Al Raby, of the CCCO, and "Poverty and Welfare in Chicago," by Mr. Chester Robinson, Director of the West Side Organization.

Speakers, Concerts Presented

The Cultural-Intellectual Life Committee sponsored a number of varied programs in 1965-66. The Monday Morning Assembly series featured the following speakers: Mr. Herb Kaplaw, Washington correspondent for NBC News; Dr. Hans Margenthau, University of Chicago Professor of Political Science; Dr. Martin Marty, Associate Editor of The Christian Century; U. S. Senator Birch Bayh, Democrat from Indiana; Dr. Philip Hauser, Chairman of the Advisory Panel on the Integration of Chicago Public Schools; Mr. Leon Despres, independent Chicago alderman; U. S. Senator Paul Douglas, Democrat from Illinois; Dr. Douglas Steere, active in the ecumenical movement, and Mr. Norman Rass, commentator-columnist for the Chicago Daily News. Two evening concerts—with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and the Norman Luboff Choir—were also sponsored by the committee.

Herb Kaplaw talks about world events.

Philip Hauser speaks about "Education and the Negro Revolt."

Senator Douglas discusses the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington.

Romsey Lewis introduces the other members of the trio.

The Ramsey Lewis Trio Appears on

The Ramsey Lewis Trio appears on the college campus.

Historically, the blues and the baroque would seem to be centuries apart, but it's taken jazz pianist Ramsey Lewis only a decade to blend these two musical idioms into an award-winning and hit-record-making musical style. The In Crowd, one of their albums, is already over the million mark in sales and is well on its way to becoming the most successful instrumental LP in record history. In 1966, the Ramsey Lewis Trio made its first college appearance with a 40-college tour, including the concert here at Elmhurst.

Drummer, Red Holt, improvises to a popular piece.

Campus for Third Social Life Concert

Bob Faskett and Roy Thrasher interview El Dee for the college radio station, WRSE-FM.

The Lettermen, a popular campus attraction last year, were invited to return by the Social Life Committee. Their concert included such songs as "What kind of fool am I?," "Groups are Nothing New," "People," and a medley from "West Side Story." Their performance also had much joking, laughter, and audience participation.

For the past 33 years, with the exception of two years because of the Second World War, Elmhurst College has been the host of one of the largest invitational track meets in the midwest each spring. The meet has been under the direction of Uncle Pete Langhorst since its beginning.

This year the members of the E Club chose Vivian Johnson as E.I.I. queen, with Marie Johnson, Sandy Centner, Mary Beth Kirby, and Sue Vorhees as her attendants.

90 Year Old 'Student' Gets Diploma

An oversight 69 years ago caused J. Phillip Appel to miss getting his diploma in the classical course of study at Elmhurst College.

The college not only corrected the oversight but awarded an honorary degree that probably no one else in the world has—an honorary degree in patience.

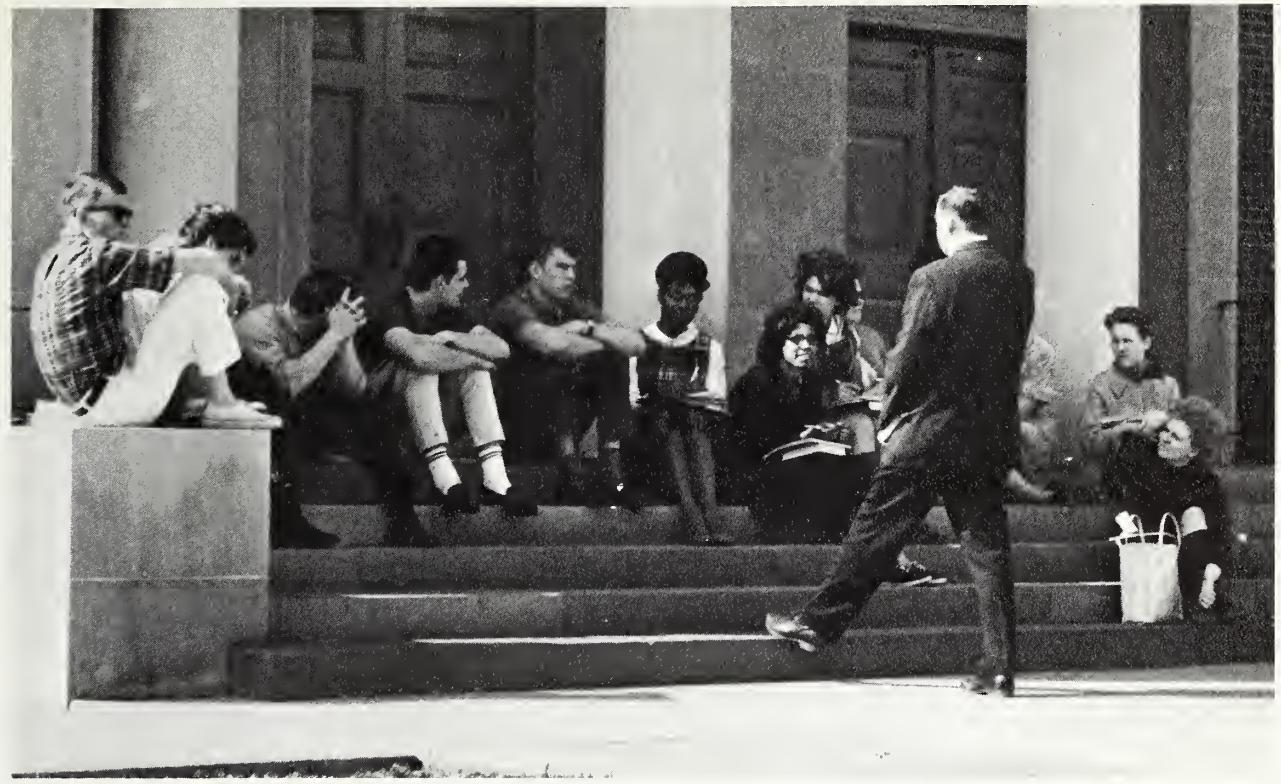

Dr. Kleckner, the college president, flew to Dallas, Texas to present the diploma at a luncheon in the Dollos nursing home where Mr. Appel now lives.

Despite his lack of a diploma, Mr. Appel became a school teacher after he left the college. He taught parochial schools for five years, then entered newspaper work. He retired seven years ago from the Dallas Times Herald.

In January, a college alumni bulletin was directed to his daughter—Miss Irma Appel. She recalled that the night before she had visited her father at the nursing home, and he told her of never receiving his diploma, although he had completed the course of study.

Miss Appel wrote Dr. Kleckner. He made a search of the college's records and discovered that Appel was right; he had never received his diploma.

The diploma presented to Appel was dated 1897 and was an authentic copy of the diplomas presented to other members of his class.

The Chicago Room in McCormick Place was the setting of the Junior Formal Dinner-Dance, May 20. Instead of the traditional Junior Prom, the junior class decided to have a dinner-dance. They thought it would be "unique" and would not be quite as expensive as the Prom since the dinner is included in the ticket.

Co-chairmen of the dinner-dance were Sandy Centner and Jack Terrill. Ruth Foreschner and Dave Gumper were chairmen of tickets and favors. Sue Vorhees and Lee Marinaccio were responsible for obtaining the orchestra and inviting the chaperones and guests. Dave Hotle, junior class president, assisted in the preparation for the dinner-dance.

Greeting Freshmen, Paul Anderson acquaints them with Student Government Association.

Senate was the legislative branch of the Student Government Association. In this capacity Senate enacted legislation pertaining to the student body at large, off campus issues, and the Senate itself. Another purpose of Senate was to provide a channel of expression for student opinions on matters of concern both on and off the college campus. Senators were elected from each of the residence hall floors and from each of the various academic areas for non-resident students.

The College Union Board served as the programming group of the Student Government Association. The Board was composed of a president, vice-president, and student and faculty chairmen of the Cultural Life, Religious Life, Social Life, and Athletic Life committees. Its members were elected from the student body at large. The Union Board was responsible for the programming of student activities, and the calendaring of campus events.

President Consults Students

The Student Division of the President's Advisory Council was composed of student leaders from student government and various organizations. It helped to further communication between President Kleckner and the student body this year. On one hand, it acted as an organ to inform students of important college decisions, where the college is going, and what it hopes to do. On the otherhand, it conferred with the President and gave him student opinion on various issues.

President's Advisory Council Members—Seated: Judy Streich and Shirley Samanek. Standing: Jim Bracher, Russ Landolt, and Keith Karau.

President's Advisory Council Members—First row: Dale Hempen, Glen Pertle, Mary Ja Schmitt, and Neil Langa. Second row: David Hoefer, Pres. Donald C. Kleckner, and Paul Anderson.

Religious Life Committee—First row: Barb Kruse, Barbaro Porker, and Joon Beerholter. Second row: Mrs. Clark, Karen Boer, Ellen Kalmon, and Don Smarto. Third row:

Bill Kruse, Rev. Schieler, Joyce Carlson, Tom Bentz, and Keith Karau.

Committee Heads Church on Campus

Religious Life Committee consisted of three main areas. First of all, worship, consisted of Thursday night vespers and Sunday interdenominational communion and historical services. Second, education, provided retreat, religious emphasis periods, movies, and monthly programs. Finally, the social action committee tried to bring the student into awareness of the world situation and tried to stimulate him to take part in creating a better world.

Malcolm Boyd is one of the many lecturers brought to campus by the Religious Life Committee.

The Athletic Life Committee—seated: Poul Minorik, Judy Schmidt, Karen Nottrott, Mike Mason. Standing: Skip

Knapp, Ron Wilde, John Boland, Mike Meinhordt, Dove Gumper, Ron Rodke and Dove Hotle.

The Athletic Life Committee helped to give life to the college campus in 1965-66 through its sponsoring of intramurals and its promoting of school spirit. The intramural program included football, basketball, volleyball, softball and track for men; and volleyball, basketball, badminton and softball for women. To promote school spirit, the committee worked closely with other campus organizations—with the cheerleaders for pep rallies, and with the band for a proposed Bond Day.

Lettermen Return By Request

The Social Life Committee, headed by Hal Schippits, presented three concerts this year. Ferrante and Teicher and The Ramsey Lewis Trio were newcomers to the campus. The Lettermen came back for an outstanding repeat performance. Ferrante and Teicher gave a lively concert with the unique trick of changing the strings of the piano to make it sound like a bongo drum. The Ramsey Lewis Trio played renditions of the current popular songs along with their top hit, "The In Crowd."

Aside from these concerts, Social Life sponsored many informal dances on campus. They also had several movies including "The Hustler," "Breakfast at Tiffany's," and "The Prize."

Cultural Life Committee—Seated: Roger Hanz, Danna Langlas, Ron Aisenbrey, Kenvi Sheehan, Jeannie Adams, and James Kerkstra. Standing: David Schimelpfenig, Tam Mattern, Jan Ritt, Paul Meyer, David Hoefer, Mr. Peale, and Mr. Mohamed.

Committee Supplies Assembly Speakers

The Cultural Life Committee of the Elmhurst College Union Board had the purpose of keeping the campus in touch with cultural opportunities in the Chicago area and the responsibility of extending and intensifying the intellectual and social awareness of the campus. It planned its program a year in advance and arranged it in the forms of the Convocation Series, the Lecture Series, the student-faculty firesides, the Foreign Film Series, and other special events.

Schick Dorm Council—seated: Linda Pollitz, Sue Stoker, Gail Dannenberg, and Kathy Zupan. Standing—Sue Nib-lick, Diane Kraus, Susan Schaffer, Barbara Baker, Ann Linford, Merrie Hines, and Judith Reichhold.

Lehmann Residence Council—kneeling Ginny DeLang
Seated—Sharan Cannan, Barbara Ashtan, and Sally Tucker.

Dorm Policies

Schick and Lehmann residents elected executive bodies to establish and enforce dorm policies. Each dorm had a dorm council composed of officers and wing representatives which served as a communication system between dorm officials and residents. The residence councils were educative bodies formed to handle disciplinary problems in the dorm. Residence councils referred violators to the Judicial Board when they felt further action should be taken.

Lehmann Dorm Council—seated: Mary Kay Wallace, Judy Schaefer, and Carol Haefer. Standing—Diane Girard, Judy Kessler, and Elsie Back, Sheila Blatti, Sally Tucker, and Diane Taylor; Danna Langlas.

Councils Serve Dinkmeyer

Dinkmeyer Residence Council—seated: Mary McPherson and Ann Niensted. Standing: Beth Schmiechen, Jaan Tschudy, Diane Braiden, and Sheryl Hahman.

A dorm council consisting of wing representatives and dorm officers, plus an elected residence council served as policy forming groups for Dinkmeyer Hall. The dorm council was responsible for planning open houses and other dorm activities such as the Christmas Party. The residence council furthered interdorm relationships by providing a better understanding of dorm regulations. Advisor to both councils was Miss Joan Tschudy, Head Resident of Dinkmeyer.

Dinkmeyer Hall Council—seated: Janet Russell, Paree Sekeris, Jane Willman, Kathy Harris, and Jeannie Adams.

Standing: Karen Babeng, Gail Jacaby, Lesley Evans, Ann Niensted, and Jaan Tschudy.

AWS Executive Committee—seated: Carroll Cullom, Mary Ja Schmitt, and Barbara Lemmans. Standing: Miss Kishi, Lesley Evans, Danna Langlas, Jane Leabhard, Gail Dannenberg, Iris Gardner, and Susan Grave.

AWS Sponsors Annual Circus

The Association of Women Students was composed of all resident and commuter women at Elmhurst College. AWS consisted of an executive committee which planned and co-ordinated all the activities of the three boards: judicial, legislative, and program. The program committee supervised the organization's activities, both social and service. The major activities were the Big-little Sister Party, Bachelor's Holiday, AWS Circus and Christmas toy drive.

Men's Dorms

The Irion Hall "J" Board, seated—John Bizer, Dave McCurdy, Ken Alm. Standing—Stu Holman, Roger Horn, Kurt Traugott, and Dick Fischer, advisor.

Both men's dorms, Niebuhr and Irion, had committees which established and enforced dorm policies. The dorm councils were responsible for forming policies regarding conduct in each dorm. The councils were also in charge of the open houses which were held each month. The purpose of the Judicial Boards was to decide what action is to be taken against an offender when a dorm regulation has been violated.

This year the Niebuhr Dorm Council appointed a new Cultural Life Committee to provide cultural activities for Niebuhr residents. The committee provided free transportation and often reduced rates for these events. The first event sponsored was a trip to Chicago to see the movie "Dr. Zhivago."

Greater Elmhurst Serves E. C.

Greater Elmhurst Members—First row: Marti Miller, Priscilla Alden, and Freya Barger. Second row: Rand Henson, Kathy Hoaton, Jack Brennan, and Mary Mc-

Greater Elmhurst provided students the opportunity to offer their services to specific programs of Elmhurst College such as: admissions, alumni, fund raising, and public relations. The organization served at the invitation of the administration. During the year members participated in Senior High Day, Inauguration, Homecoming, and Spring Weekend. The members also conducted tours of the campus for prospective students and guests.

The officers are Don Smarto—president, Judy Kessler—secretary; Rand Henson, Pam Martins, Ken Fletcher, and John Brache are coordinators.

College Honors Campus Scholars

The Honor Society of Elmhurst College recognized the fine scholastic achievement of all students who received a superior grade point average for five or more semesters. Members were chosen in the spring through election by a faculty committee appointed by President Kleckner. The Society members attended an annual spring banquet.

Honor Society—Seated: Naomi Poltrack and Mrs. Susan Ellinger. Standing: Carol Hoefer and Sally Tucker.

Choir Sings At Inauguration

The Elmhurst College Choir was a forty member organization of mixed voices, serving both the college and the surrounding community. The Choir was kept especially busy with off-campus concerts during the Christmas and Easter seasons. Spring Tour took the organization through Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New York, and Michigan. The tour acquainted people throughout the Northeast with Elmhurst College. The highpoint of the year for choir members was singing at President Kleckner's Inauguration.

Choir Officers: Jon Neuse, Tom Uphaus, Ken Fletcher, and Mary Bowers.

The Men's Glee Club under the direction of David Austin headed to the southeast quadrant of the United States for the 1966 Spring Tour. Concerts were given throughout Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Virginia, Washington, D. C., Maryland, and Ohio. The Glee Club served as a public relations agent of the college while on tour.

Highlight of the season was a joint concert with the Men's Glee Club of Northwestern University. The combined groups performed Philip James' setting of Vachel Lindsay's descriptive poem, "General William Booth Enters Into Heaven."

Glee Club Officers—seated: Randall Brakemeyer, David Schimelpfenig, and Joe Fraccara. Standing: Barry Warren, Tom Bentz, David McCurdy, and Richard Happel.

Poly Tours Northern States

Polyhymnia, the Elmhurst College women's chorus, was under the direction of Mrs. Viola Repp. During the year Poly gave weekly concerts in the Chicago area. These concerts served to finance the annual spring tour. This year the tour took members through the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Iowa. One of the purposes of the tour was to acquaint people throughout the country with Elmhurst College.

Polyhymnia Officers—Sedated: Judy Kehl and Becky Lattner. Standing: Pam Martens, Jean Tschudy, Danna Toaker, and Carol Haefer.

Band Appears At A.W.S. Circus

A full concert band, absent on the Elmhurst College scene since the pre-war thirties, reappeared this year under the baton of Mr. Dale Hamilton. The well-balanced 50-member organization was built through regular appearances at all home football and basketball contests to full concert presentations in the spring. Keynoting the spring season was the Spring Concert in April. Appearances at the AWS Circus and in an evening program in the college mall completed the year.

During pre-game activities, Mr. Dale Hamilton directs the band in the fight song to build up the spectators enthusiasm.

Band members entertain with lively marches during the half-time at the Elmhurst - St. Procopius game.

Informed on World Events

The Elm Bark, the college newspaper, was in its forty-sixth year of publication. This weekly newspaper covered local, national, and international happenings as well as campus events. The Elm Bark served as a means of communicating information about coming events to the student body. Editor-in-chief for 1966 was Arthur Kay. Serving as faculty advisor this year was Mr. Arnold Davidson.

Staff Members: Terry Moye, Edward Roth, and George Koch.

Staff Members: Seated: John Bizer, Don Stahlhut, and Jim Longdoc. Standing: John Boland and Tom Bentz.

WRSE Broadcasts for First

The summer of 1965 was a "first" for WRSE-FM in that programs were broadcast throughout the summer vacation. During the academic year, the station was on the air an average of 40 hours a week. Another "first" was broadcasting all football games both on-campus and away. Still another "first" was the broadcasting of home basketball games from York High School. The station continued to discover uses for the United Press International news service installed in April of 1965. Community organizations continued to use the station's facilities for broadcasts of their projects and areas of concern.

WRSE Executive Committee — Clockwise: Louis Ciaglio, chief engineer; Dr. Donald Low, faculty advisor; Brion Reynolds, station manager; Thomas Teuber, program director; Jan Midgely, music director; and Robert Foskett, business manager and news director.

Spi Sic Sez Prowls Campus

Co-ordinating fund raising activities for the Campus Chest is the job of committee heads Richard Gerber and Annette Nolte.

A variety of fund raising activities were sponsored by the Campus Chest to raise money for a scholarship fund. This year's activities included slave days and a campus auction. The scholarship was presented to a high ranking foreign student.

The anonymous members of Spi Sic Sez sneaked about campus late at night putting up posters which backed the athletic teams. The group was composed of two representatives from each class. Spi Sic Sez was formed to create more school spirit.

The senior members of Spi-Sic were Hal Schippits and Dave Ek. The other members will not be revealed until the end of their senior year.

Tutees Visit E.C. Campus

The tutoring project, whose main attention was focused on the Lawndale area of Chicago, especially at Howland School, concentrated on the tutoring of reading and arithmetic. Its main concern was to enable the college student and a child of this area to come into closer contact, not only through help in academic ways, but also in personal ways. There were no membership requirements other than "an openness to others and an ability to respond, . . . to take as well as give." The project included a Christmas party for the children and a benefit in April.

Tutoring project chairman Jon Ritt chats with some of the tutees at Howland School while waiting for the bus to arrive.

Jays Win Six!!

The Jays once again overpowered their opponents on the ground as they totaled 1705 yards rushing—opponents, 1044 yards. Small school all-American, Dave Ek led the ground game with 790 yards boosting his total to 2,298 yards, thus establishing a new career high for Elmhurst. Ek was not a one-man show, however, as Lundquist and Gardner contributed 348 and 423 yards respectively. The passing of Skip Knapp surprised the Jays as he completed 57% of his passes for a total of 1106 yards and 14 touchdowns. The scoring leader, Ek, had 53 points, followed by Gardner and Rodgers with 37 points each. The 1965 Jays will be remembered as a high-powered offense which averaged 353.1 yards per game and scored 22.4 points per game.

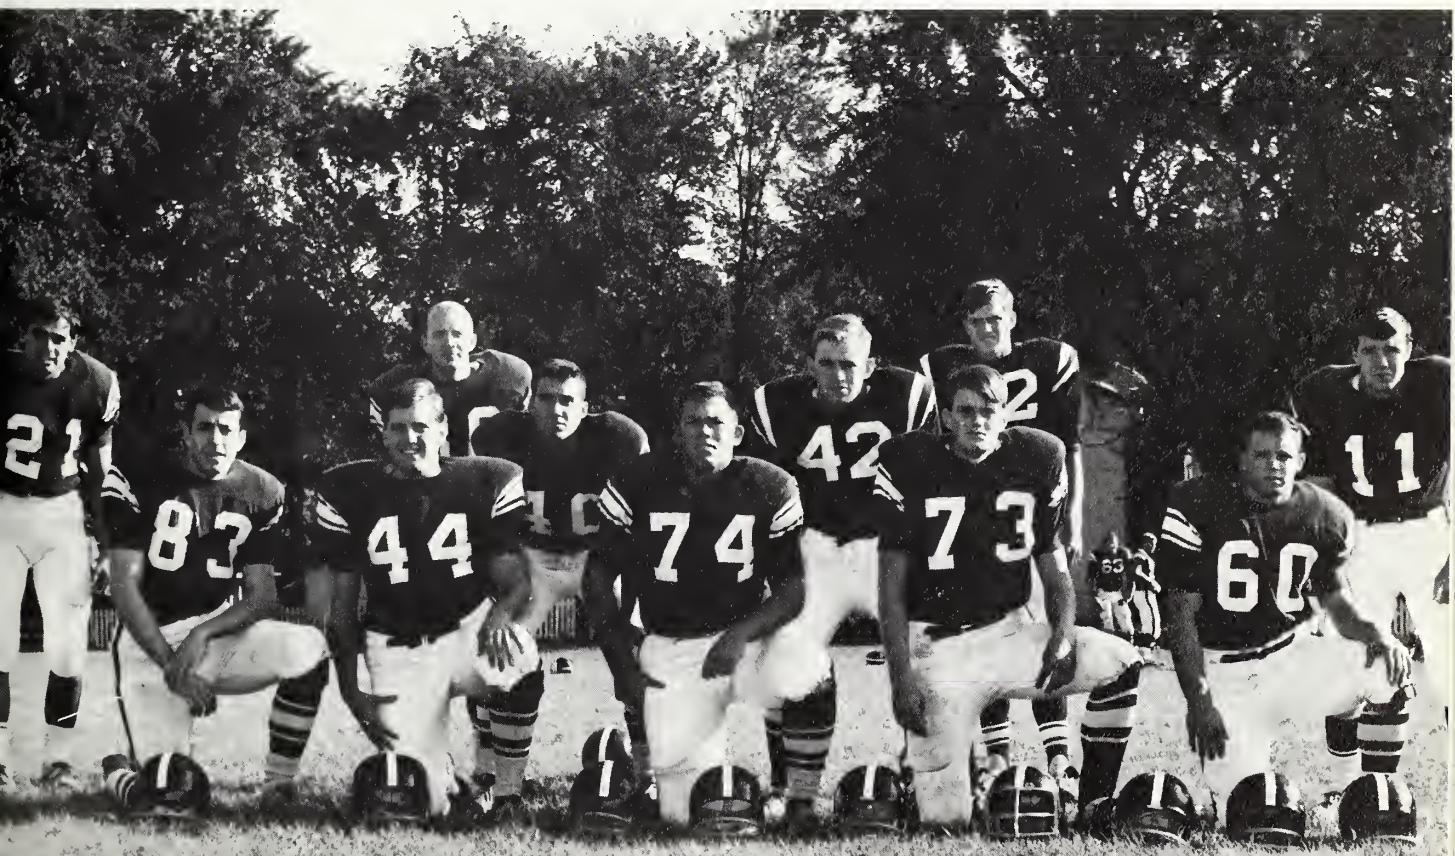

Harold Schippits leads the blocking for speedy half-back, Rich Benbow.

The defensive Jays complemented the powerful offense well as they held opponents to 252.6 yards per game which is more than 100 yards less than what Elmhurst gained. Special recognition must be given as opponents averaged only 130.5 yards rushing and 121.8 yards passing per game. Defensive leaders were linebackers, Hotle, Kloepping, Grobe, and Petersen with 47, 46, 41 and 32 tackles respectively. The 26 fumbles of the opponents indicated a great deal of hard tackling.

Excluding the fiascos in Minnesota and Wisconsin, the Jays would have allowed only 3 touchdowns with 11 interceptions. On the season, however, the Jays allowed 8 aerial touchdowns and had 12 interceptions. Pass defense was led by Petersen, J. Boland and Berg with 4, 3, and 3 interceptions respectively.

Starting Defense: Row 1: J. Karr, J. Driskall, K. Jurkones,

Cagers Have An 8-15 Season

John Dancy goes for another basket.

The highly talented roundballers were once again plagued by injuries and the scholastic standings committee on eligibility. Individual stars will long be remembered — especially the long jump shots of Leo Boughton, the flashy drives of John Lundquist, the amazing leaps of John Dancy, the persistent rebounding of Roger Rumpf and the teamwork of Don Anderman. Early critics winced at the lack of height, but the Jays overcame this handicap as they out rebounded their opponents 1195 to 1107. Rumpf provided most of the rebounding as he set the school record with 411, as well as being elected the most valuable player for his fine team play. The high scoring Jays, 80.2 points per game, were led by Dancy's 306 and 13.3 points per game, Boughton's 8.3 and Lundquist's 12.5.

Although many games resulted in disappointing losses, this team will always be remembered as a fast-breaking and sharp shooting squad.

Led by seniors Cliff Ehlinger, Cliff Pensyl, Paul Litzinger, and Harold Youngblood, and first year stars Terry Sullivan, John Canata, Willard Bieskow, and Jim Schultz, the Jays accumulated a 10-7 record. Ehlinger led the hurlers with a 5-1 record and a 2.08 ERA. Sullivan led the offense with a .309 average followed by Bieskow's .292 and Litzinger's .291. Special credit must be given to Coach Spiroff who was given the award for having the most improved team in the Chicagoland Conference and to Bill Shigetani who was elected to the all-star team.

E Club Sponsors "Playboy Dance"

Elmhurst College's E Club was composed of all student body men who had earned varsity athletic awards. It was organized in 1936 to encourage good sportsmanship and high standards among athletes and to show the campus that athletes do more than just participate in sports. Officers in 1965-1966 were Cliff Pensyl, president; Roger Miller, vice-president; Rich Grobe, secretary; Bill Kloepping, corresponding secretary; and William Shigetani, treasurer.

The club held monthly meetings in which various coaches, athletes, and authorities on sports were featured as speakers. It also sponsored two annual dances, the Kick-Off Dance at the beginning of the school year and the popular "Playboy Dance" in the spring. Members of E Club distributed programs and acted as ushers at football and basketball games, and, they served as judges at the EII track meet.

At the Athletic Convocation in May, Bob Smith, NBC broadcaster was featured speaker; and Roger Rumpf, senior, was selected as the athlete who contributed the most to the student body.

Cheerleaders Arouse Enthusiasm

With two new members to the squad this year, the cheerleaders combined their experience with enthusiasm to form an excellent squad. The cheerleaders not only performed well on the football field and basketball floor, but also created team spirit through their pep rallies, dances, team receptions and send-offs. Special recognition should be given to their ambitious advisor Vivian Johnson. Next year's squad will undoubtedly miss the able services of Senior Marty Uthlaut. With only one member graduating, next year's squad should again be quite excellent.

Freya, Melody, and Marie look on.

The Faculty and

The Elmhurst College faculty is marked by a wide background in education and experience. Each member must do far more than just teach his subject to students. He is called upon to guide scholastic work, sponsor clubs, coach athletics, direct theatrical productions, advise publications, serve on campus committees, hold fireside discussions, and act as

In Memoriam

Percy H. Hylton, better known to all of us as "Gov", will be remembered not only as the head librarian but also as a friend. No problem was ever too large or small for this man; he was always ready to lend a helping hand.

This was the fifth year that "Gov" was a member of the college community. This year he was appointed advisor of the E Club; he was chairman of the athletic committee and a member of the library committee. He was also the Senior class sponsor. In the past, he was the Elms' advisor.

After becoming head Librarian here, "Gov" began an extensive program of change and improvement in the college library. At the time of his death, he was looking forward to the construction of a new library in the near future.

Sophomores Initiate Freshmen

With a year of experience behind them at E.C., the members of the Sophomore class returned to harass the new freshmen.

Proving their capabilities they successfully staged and planned, "It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas," the annual Sophomore semi-formal dance. The dance finally became something more than a catastrophe.

The Freshman Class Officers are, standing, Harold Berg, president, and David Raefer, treasurer, and sitting, Richard Benbow, vice president and Kay Kupper, secretary.

"Frosh" Begin College Careers

The members of this year's Freshman class, with beanies on their heads and "E" Books in their hands, quickly and completely became part of the Elmhurst campus life. Their characteristic enthusiasm and spirit will long be remembered.

This, the 1966 Elms, is completed. Nothing is left but for you the reader to examine, to read, to exclaim and to remember.

This is a record of events, games, dances, fun, studies and people. A record of what Elmhurst College was during one short year.

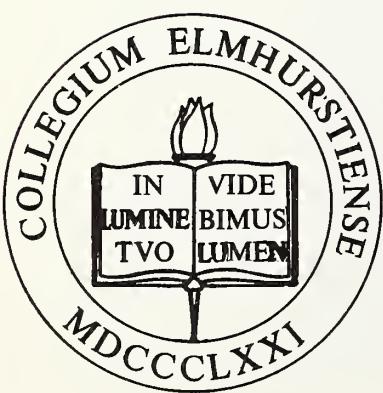

This is the product of hundreds of hours of work, fun and fellowship. In spite of the disappointments that have been encountered, here is the end product of the toil, the frustration and the love.

This is a thank you. Especially is it given to the members of the staff without whom there would be no layouts, no copy and no book. And it is given to Ed Johnson, the advisor, who came through with valuable bits and pieces of sound advice. To Bruce Heinrich, Gary Marburger and Harold Warp, the thank you must be given for their photographs. To all these people, a sincere thank you is extended.

This, the 1966 Elms, is now presented to you — Dr. Kleckner, faculty and administrators, and students. Look at it, read it, and think about the future in the light of what you see here.

Keith A. Karau

Special Photographic credits go to Koehne Studios of Chicago, Lennox Studios of Northfield, Mel Dobsky of The Elmhurst Press, and to Clarence Sikes of Delmar.
